Description (max. 100 words)	The aim is to revise the rules of the standard norm of the Serbian language with the emphasis on the orthographic rules. During their studies, students are heavily exposed to the English language orthographic norm which can lead to negative interference resulting in inadequate use of both languages' norms. Topics: grammar and orthographic norm; history of the writing system; Cyrillic and Latin letters; the use of capital letters; punctuation; orthographic symbols; abbreviations; spelling of foreign words; orthographic rules and social etiquette; phonetics with the basics of morpho-phonology; morphology.
Learning outcomes (max. 50 words)	Students' theoretical and practical knowledge of the Serbian language is expanded. They are motivated to continuously maintain and develop their linguistic culture in the mother tongue, which is a prerogative both if they act as role models (teachers) or translators, or simply as university educated individuals.
