Code		Course level	undergraduate (BA)	ECTS credits	10
Description (max. 100 words)	The course is designed to improve the students' theoretical and practical knowledge of English grammar - different types of verbs, in particular. Improving their grammar knowledge is believed to enhance their ability to express themselves more precisely and correctly, both when writing and speaking in English. Also, an important segment of the course is honing their four language skills through reading, writing, speaking and listening classes which are at the C1-C2 level of the CEFR scale.
Learning outcomes (max. 50 words)	At the end of the course, the students will have acquired theoretical knowledge related to different types of verbs in English and their complements. Also, they will be able to use that knowledge correctly and confidently when reading, writing and speaking and will be able to understand messages that contain the mentioned grammatical structures.
Semester	2	Maximum number of visiting students
