

Course Title	International Relations
Faculty	Faculty of Law and Business Studies Dr Lazar Vrkić
Study Programme	Law
Professor	Associate professor Božidar Jeličić		Contact (e-mail address)	bozidarj@bitsyu.net
Code		Course level	Graduate (MA)	ECTS credits	11
Description (max. 100 words)	This course allows students to gain both general and specific understanding of how international relations have been changing from the start of World War II through today. More precisely, the course is designed to help students understand the meaning, significance and role of international relations. This will enable students to understand the consequences of negative international relations and the advantages of building positive ones, with special attention given to contemporary international relations and future trends in international affairs.
Learning outcomes (max. 50 words)	After completing this course students can: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Understand basic concepts and categories of international relations theory • Understand the historical development of international relations from World War II until today • recognise and predict trends in the development of international affairs • collect and critically analyse professional literature in this field.
Semester	3		Maximum number of visiting students
Language	Serbian		Available for international students (YES or NO)	YES	