

Course Title	BUSINESS ENGLISH 4
Faculty	Faculty of Law and Business Studies Dr Lazar Vrkić
Study Programme	Business Psychology
Professor	Assistant Professor Ana Sentov	Contact (e-mail address)	ana.sentov@gmail.com
Code		Course level	Undergraduate (BA)	ECTS credits	4
Description (max. 100 words)	Introduction of complex grammatical structures necessary for oral and written communication at the B2 level. Enhancement of English for specific purposes (ESP) capabilities through interpreting professional texts, listening to authentic materials, writing summaries, and argumentative essays in English; also through topic-based oral communication. Main topics: Moods: indicative, imperative, and subjunctive ; Conditional sentences type 1; Conditional sentences type 2; Conditional sentences type 3; Passive state of verbs; Verb complements: infinitive, gerund; Verbs with prepositions; Phrasal verbs with two elements; Phrasal verbs with three elements; Direct and indirect speech; Interrogative sentences in indirect speech; Orders and requests in indirect speech.
Learning outcomes (max. 50 words)	Students will have mastered complex structures such as passive and conditional sentences and indirect speech. Also, students will have expanded and improved their vocabulary in the field of psychology, as well as reading skills, text understanding, and listening and writing skills at the B2 level.
Semester	4	Maximum number of visiting students
Language	English	Available for international students (YES or NO)		YES	