

Course Title	RESEARCH METHODS IN SECURITY
Faculty	FACULTY OF LAW AND BUSINESS STUDIES DR LAZAR VRKATIĆ
Study Programme	SECURITY AND CRIME SCIENCE
Professor	MILAN DANIČIĆ, associate professor	Contact (e-mail address)	milandanivic58@gmail.com
Code		Course level	UNDERGRADUATE (BA)	ECTS credits	7
Description (max. 100 words)	Introducing students to theoretical bases for dealing with underlying security problems, determining the target and relevant sources for investigation of the security phenomena, by using adequate methods. Subsequently, the focus is on identifying, defining and researching social phenomena of a security type.
Learning outcomes (max. 50 words)	Training students to understand the logical foundations of the methodology in different forms of learning; identifying and designing the research of security phenomena (structure, hypotheses, research methods, scientific and social justifications, organization and realization of the security phenomena research project); demonstrating the ability to develop and present the research project.
Semester	8	Maximum number of visiting students
Language	SERBIAN	Available for international students (YES or NO)	YES		